Language arts IEP goals represent a critical facet of special education, reflecting the commitment to personalized learning for students with disabilities. This analysis delves into the context, causation, and implications of these goals within educational frameworks.

Contextual Background

The Individuals with Disabilities Education Act (IDEA) mandates that eligible students receive an Individualized Education Program, which includes goals tailored to address specific educational needs. Language arts, encompassing reading, writing, speaking, and listening, is central to academic success and functional communication. However, students with disabilities often face significant hurdles in acquiring these skills due to cognitive, sensory, or language impairments.
